

NINE ARE RESCUED FROM HYDROPLANE IN THE HUDSON

Women in Flying Boat
Wrecked in Haverstraw Bay on Way to This City.

Flying 1,000 feet above the Hudson River off Croton about 8 o'clock last night a hydroplane was forced to descend in Haverstraw Bay. All the occupants were rescued.

Two men of the party swam nearly a mile for help while the others clung to the machine before a motor boat came to their aid.

Those in the hydroplane were not completely identified, giving only their family names to the physicians in Croton, who found none of them injured. All proceeded immediately to New York in an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Manners, the former said to be W. H. Manners of this city and owner of the flying boat; Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, their sons, sixteen and ten years old, and their daughter, eight; the pilot, named Baldwin, and a ninth person were in the plane's cabin and pit.

Leaving the Adirondacks in the afternoon the machine headed for this city. Engine trouble developed about a mile north of Croton, and its missing fire could be heard by persons on the ground.

Passing Croton Mr. Manners decided to descend. Slipping down to the river in a light fog the distance was misjudged and the plane struck the water with a force that broke the hull.

The occupants were thrown about and the women became hysterical. They and the children were lifted to the superstructure.

As their shouts for help were unanswered, Mr. Manners and Baldwin decided to swim ashore. The distance was about two miles. They had covered half the distance when they were discovered by Lawrence Keegan and William Baker, who were in a motor boat. The launch went to the hydroplane, where the other members of the party were taken aboard. The women were drenched and hysterical. Reaching shore they were taken to the offices of Dr. Nathaniel Brook and W. N. Miller, who attended them. They were uninjured. They engaged automobiles and came to the city. The hydroplane was towed to shore.

K. OF C. DENY BEING A SECRET SOCIETY

Supreme Secretary Asserts It Is
No More So Than Is a Private Family.

Formal denial that the Knights of Columbus is a secret society was made by Supreme Secretary McGinley yesterday in reply to a public demand by the Rev. Dr. McPherson in the Tent Tabernacle, 110th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, Sunday, that "all secret societies, including the Knights of Columbus," should be investigated.

"The Knights of Columbus is no more a secret society than a private family is a secret society," Mr. McGinley's statement read. "As a matter of fact, the Knights of Columbus is the only organization, to my knowledge, that has voluntarily made public the obligation assumed by its members. Naturally, a man entering the organization, as he would enter his home, privately. The record of the Knights of Columbus is plainly written for anybody who is interested to read. There are no secret machinations, no mysterious persons or plots. The Knights of Columbus are and must be sane adults willing to work for the advancement of country and church."

"The present furor over the Ku Klux Klan is interesting to me principally because it confirms my belief that while Barnum was right, his statistics were wrong: There must be at least two born every minute."

POLICEMAN AND HIS PRISONER BOTH FREED.

Letter Accused Him of Illegal
Entry in House Hunt.

Patrolman Harry Hepper, of the West 45th Street station, was today acquitted by Magistrate Levine in the West Side Court on the charge of illegal search for liquor in his entry of the home of Harry Satoris of the Hotel Fontana, No. 30 West 61st Street, on the afternoon of Aug. 21. Satoris failed to appear.

The patrolman entered the room of Satoris saying he had a search warrant, but he refused to produce it. He confiscated twenty-one bottles of gin and arrested Satoris for illegal possession. When Magistrate McGuire before whom the case was tried, learned of the manner of entry he discharged Satoris. Then the latter's attorney brought the charge against Hepper.

PISTOL PERMIT REFUSED HIM, HE HANGS HIMSELF.

Retired Far Rockaway Merchant
Had Been Despondent.

Steve Hirschberg, a retired merchant, living at No. 53 Merrill Road, Far Rockaway, was found hanging from a beam in the cellar of his home last night. Leon Solon, a friend, who discovered him, cut him down. Dr. Joseph Baum was called and found he was dead.

Hirschberg, who was forty-eight years old, applied for a permit to carry a revolver a short while ago. One of his vouchers then told the police he was afraid. Hirschberg would commit suicide if he got the revolver as he was very despondent and the request was denied. Hirschberg's family was away at the time his body was discovered.

GEN. PERSHING CELEBRATES 61ST BIRTHDAY TO-DAY

Gen. JOHN J. PERSHING
UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD

Noted Commander of American
Army Can Look Back On a
Life of Success.

This is Gen. John J. Pershing's 61st birthday.

He was born in Linn County, Mo., educated at Kirksville Normal School, in his native state, and went from there to West Point.

Every one knows how the General carried on his shoulders the tremendous burden of his responsibilities as the Commander-in-Chief of the American Expeditionary Forces and how he welded together the units of the great fighting machine which astonished the world, but not as many know that previous to winning for himself and the United States of America unperishing laurels, the General was one of the most distinguished fighting officers of the army, and has had the furnace test of war and of dark personal tragedy to pass through.

DEPORTATION FOR GIRL WHO ENABLED SISTER TO ENTER

Will Be Sent Back to Poland if
Other Sister Is Not Found.

While Stefanie Wontropka, twenty years old, might be sent to prison for five years and fined $2,000 for changing places with her younger sister Karolina, enabling her to escape from Ellis Island, immigration authorities say "she will go back to Poland in her sister's place if we do not find her sister."

Karolina arrived last week and was ordered deported because Poland's quota of immigration had been reached. Stefanie got a pass to see her, then changed hats and shawls, gave her pass to Karolina and told her to go to our friends.

The girl was arraigned before United States Commissioner Hitchcock, who postponed hearing until she should have recovered from her weakened condition due to fasting. Meantime, she was paroled in the custody of her counsel, Milton J. Bach, No. 522 Fifth Avenue. He appealed to the Secretary of the Interior to help his client, but was informed the Immigration Restriction Law is inexorable.

LAST PLEA FOR McNALLY.

Attorney Asks Governor to Commute Sentence to Life Imprisonment

William C. Casey Jr., attorney for Edward J. McNally, now awaiting execution in Sing Sing, said yesterday he had made a final written plea to Gov. Miller for the commutation of McNally's sentence to life imprisonment. He expects a reply from the Governor to-day. If the plea is ignored McNally will be electrocuted Thursday night. McNally's wife and sister went to Albany yesterday in the hope of seeing Gov. Miller and persuading him to grant executive clemency.

McNally was convicted of the murder last October of Walter Jackowski in the robbery of Jackowski's lunch wagon at Mariners Harbor, Staten Island. Two other men arrested with him pleaded guilty and were sentenced to twenty years in Sing Sing. Recently they signed a statement that McNally did statement the Governor granted a stay, which expires Thursday night.
